FPPC Welcomes Chairman Johnson And Commissioner Hodson

The Fair Political Practices Commission on Thursday (March 8) welcomes two new members: Chairman Ross Johnson and Commissioner Timothy A. Hodson. The commission's regular meeting agenda includes disposition of a number of enforcement cases, two regulatory projects, resolutions honoring former members of the commission, and other items of business.

The monthly meeting begins at 10 a.m. in the FPPC's eighth-floor hearing room at 428 J St. (Fifth and J Streets) in Sacramento.

Chairman Ross Johnson represented Orange County in the California State Legislature for 26 years. He served in the California State Assembly from 1978 to 1995 and the California State Senate from 1995 to 2004. Throughout his tenure as a legislator, Johnson authored and supported major political reform legislation and ballot measures, and was a strong advocate for campaign finance, election, and political reforms.

Commissioner Timothy A. Hodson is the executive director of the Center for California Studies, California State University, Sacramento. Hodson is also a full professor in the Government Department and Graduate Program in Public Policy and Administration at Sacramento State, and is a former veteran legislative staff member on elections, ethics and other issues. Both were appointed by Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger.

The commission will act on resolutions honoring former Chair Liane Randolph and former Commissioners Philip Blair and Sheridan Downey III for their service to the FPPC and the state.

The meeting agenda and supporting memoranda and materials are posted on the FPPC's website at www.fppc.ca.gov. Just click on "Agendas" on the left side of the home page and go to "Current Agenda." The agenda is posted on the website 10 days before the meeting, and letters commenting on agenda items are also posted when received.
